DAY 12: Another day of Finnish discoveries in Helsinki

Relax with a morning of leisure and a delicious lunch on your ship before heading out for another day of exploration in Helsinki. You'll have the opportunity to choose your preferred tour — the charming town of Porvoo or UNESCO-listed Suomenlinna Fortress.

Located just 45 minutes east of Helsinki, you'll find the idyllic town of Porvoo. This is a haven of art, design, history, and architecture, surrounded by soothing nature. This is the second oldest city in Finland, best known for its cobblestone streets, charming cafés and boutiques, and vermilion-hued riverside warehouses — one of the most photographed landscapes in Finland. You'll admire the colorful wooden houses, stroll along winding streets, and pop into a local café for refreshments. Following your guided tour, you'll have free time to explore the many antique shops and handicraft vendors on your own before returning to the ship for lunch.

Your other tour option, Suomenlinna Fortress, is a cultural treasure. DAY 13: Welcome to Mariehamn, the heart of the Baltic Sea Situated halfway between Finland and Sweden is the welcoming port of Mariehamn, the capital of Åland. Small in stature — but big in beauty — this tiny port town has a population of only 11,000 inhabitants, and is characterized by a hospitable islander lifestyle and a strong maritime culture. You'll have a choice of two tours today — a panoramic tour of picturesque Mariehamn and its countryside, or a tour of the historically-rich municipality of Sund.

If you select the Mariehamn tour, you'll drive by many of its major sights, such as the Åland Maritime Museum, the early 1900s-era sailing ship, Pommern; and the Sjökvarteret Maritime Museum. You'll gain insight into the history and daily life of the residents that call the Åland Islands home, while heading south to the municipality of Lemland. Known for its 13th-century church — one of the oldest ever built — this minute town has a population of just over 2,100 residents. Get a glimpse of the golden era of Åland during a guided tour of the Skeppargården Pellas homestead, dating back to 1884. You will also enjoy a local treat when you visit Amalia Lemonade Factory for a tour and tasting.

Or, step back in time on an excursion to the island of Sund and learn about the history of the Åland Islands. You'll start with a visit to Kastelholm Castle, a medieval fortification constructed in the 1300s when Åland and Finland were part of the Swedish Empire. Following your castle visit, you'll head further east to the ruins of Bomarsund Fortress. Constructed in the mid-to-late 19th century, the fortress once functioned as both a defensive structure and a townlike settlement inhabited by military and civilian residents alike. You'll conclude the tour with a visit to a local distillery before heading back to the ship.

Included Feature:

- Choice of tours in Mariehamn or Sund

Cultural Discovery:

- Choice of tours: Lemonade factory visit or Gin Distillery visit

On an included tour, visit the Vasa Museum, where you'll see the amazing "ghost ship" of the same name — the world's only fully intact 17th-century warship. The massive vessel sank just offshore on its maiden voyage in 1628. It lay preserved in the mud for three centuries, before being recovered and displayed in its full glory.
